Another State Commission.

There has been introduced in the Legislature a bill that provides for a State Board of Charities and Correction. The bill calls for the appointment of seven persons who are to look after State hospitals, reformatories, State prisons, penitentiaries, county jails, workhouses, almshouses, county insane asylums, homes for idiots, imbeciles and feeble-minded, the epileptic village, and all manner of homes, reformatory, asylums and sanitariums which directly or indirectly receive any financial aid from the State.

Because two of the appointees are to be women, there is a decided opposition to the bill. The following is a sample of criticism of the bill that are being sent to all newspaper offices throughout the State:

Why should any appointed board be empowered to dictate to county officers who have been regularly nominated and duly elected to look after the affairs of such counties? Why shall a board of seven persons, two of whom shall be women, be given the power to interfere with the finances of a county in which they have no residence, and if they had such residence there is no evidence they could be elected by the people to positions of trust? Let the people rule and control their local affairs or amend our constitution so that we shall not make any pretence to be a government by the people. The control of local affairs by appointed commissions is not only dictatorial, but autocratic, and a wide deviation from the cardinal principles of a republican form of government. If there be any reason why the State, through an appointed commission or board, desires to control county institutions constructed with moneys from the county treasuries, let the State in promotion and defence of justice, honesty and business equity purchase from the counties their institutions and then with dignity and a legal process clothed with honor take charge of and control such institutions, but anything short of this form of procedure will not meet with the endorsement of the public at large.

Empire Theatre.

Richard Harding Davis's "Soldiers of Fortune," as dramatized for the stage by the veteran playwright, Augustus Thomas, will be presented at the Empire Theatre, Newark, for the week beginning Monday, February 15.

"Soldiers of Fortune," a thrilling and absorbing play of South American adventure, tells a graphic story of dauntless courage of American men in hazardous occupations of danger and daring, exciting the admiration of the old as well as the young. Augustus Thomas, in his clever dramatization, has compiled a story which is said by its thrilling and startling situations to be as fascinating a story of adventure as the latest creation by this well-known playwright. "Arizona," Robert Clay, the hero of "Soldiers of Fortune," is an American man of action. A supporting company of unusual strength and merit will be seen during the play's engagement comprising the names of the following well-known players: Edwin Brandt, D. De Louis, Lawrence Sheehan, George De Long, Katharine Raynor, Helen Ware, Lillian Thatcher, Thomas Lawrence, Howard Ober, Daniel Jarrett, Percy D. Barbat, William Meagher, Willis Brown, Byron Ongley, and E. Fleming. Matinees Monday, Wednesday and Saturday.

Hospital Building Fund.

The condition of the Mountaineer Hospital building fund is as follows: Previously acknowledged, $32,747.35; Mrs. M. M. Lord, $100; Mr. William T. Evans, $100; Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Presby, $100; total, $33,047.35.

The sum of $25,000 is needed to finish and equip the new building. As the work approaches completion the larger payments must be met, and the Board of Governors trust that the friends of the hospital and the public-spirited men of the community will provide this amount and thus prevent the necessity for a mortgage.

The graduated nurses have contributed $55. This will be used for some special purpose, as a memorial of their interest and loyalty.

Valleburg Annexation Bill.

The Duffield bill, for the annexation of the borough of Valleburg to the city of Newark, was passed by the House Monday night, and the people who profess to know assert that there will be but little trouble in passing it in the Senate. The bill is equipped with a referendum clause, which provides that the question of annexation shall be submitted to the voters of the borough first, and then if accepted by a majority shall go to the voters of Newark for acceptance or rejection. But if Valleburg refuses to approve the project it is dead and done for, so far as immediate annexation is concerned.

New Spring Goods.

Despite the fact that freezing weather has prevailed until recently, L. S. Plant & Co., are already in the field with a splendid showing of spring merchandise. Every department participates in this advance display. Dress goods, silks, wash fabrics, laces, embroideries, trimmings, ribbons, men's and women's neckwear, shirt waists, millinery and upholstery. Especially noteworthy are the displays of millinery and garments, both of these departments are offering exceptional values. The wash goods, embroideries and laces also come in for a large share of praise, being more complete at this early season than ever before, and hundreds of people are even now planning frocks and waists for the coming season. A visit to the Bee Hive will repay you.—Advt.

How to Save Money.

Take Advantage of Half Price Offer Made by W. W. Keyler.

In these times when living expenses have increased from thirty to fifty per cent, it is unusual to hear of a standard remedy being offered at half price.

Yet that is the way W. W. Keyler, the popular druggist, is selling Dr. Howard's celebrated specific for the cure of dyspepsia and constipation. In addition to selling a fifty cent bottle, containing a month's treatment of sixty doses for 25 cents, he gives his personal guarantee with every bottle he sells to refund the money if it does not give satisfaction.

This unusual offer has brought hundreds of customers to his store in the last few weeks, yet out of the many bottles of Dr. Howard's specific he has sold, but one customer has asked to have the money returned. This was done without any questions, although W. W. Keyler does not think the remedy could have been given a fair trial.

This remarkable remedy is destined to have the largest sale of any medicine upon the market, for those who use it once, not only buy a second package, but they recommend it to their friends as the only relief they have found for constipation and dyspepsia. The sole limit to its sale is the fact that in only chronic cases is more than one bottle needed to cure, and its cures are permanent.

Do not let this opportunity pass to obtain a standard fifty cent remedy at half price. Remember that Druggist W. W. Keyler will refund your money if Dr. Howard's specific does not cure.—Advt.

The Prevalence of Pneumonia.

The prevalence of pneumonia in many parts of the country is the cause of no little anxiety. While medical science is trying to determine the most probable cause or causes of the dread disease and seeking to combat its direful consequences, it is not for the layman dogmatically to assert that this or that condition of things may be held responsible for making the malady epidemic. Yet, as science generally attributes a marked increase in pneumonia to sudden and extreme variations in temperature, perhaps the layman may say that overheated houses, offices, factories, stores, etc., produce a condition favorable to the spread of this exceedingly dangerous affliction.

To step from a house or office heated to 80 degrees or higher into an outside temperature of from 20 degrees all the way down to zero, and sometimes lower, must subject the body, and especially the respiratory organs, to a most severe and menacing strain. Thus it is that the disease carries off the poor as well as the rich, but does not number among its victims many who either are careful, not to get overheated or who cannot afford very high temperatures in winter.

If it be true that a fruitful cause of pneumonia is overheating, bad air and sudden changes in temperature, it is not difficult to find a partial remedy, or at least a reasonable precaution against the disease. This is to keep our houses and other buildings moderately and comfortably warm, avoid crowded street cars as much as possible, keep much in the open air, and see that living, working and sleeping rooms are well ventilated. Such a course would save fuel, give health, and doubtless do much to ward off the most dangerous of cold weather maladies.

Nowhere can you be sure of getting as so finished as to retain its brilliancy of polish as at C. Doffinger & Sons, 3 and 5 West 19th Street, near Fifth Avenue, New York.—Advt.

State Board of Taxation.

The State Board of Taxation re-organized on Tuesday under the provisions of chapter 1 of the laws of 1904. Henry J. West of Camden was re-elected President of the Board, and Thomas B. Usher, Secretary. In addition to the meetings to be held throughout the State during the next two months for the purpose of meeting the assessors, the Board fixed the following dates for hearing appeals: Asbury Park, Monmouth county, at the Council Chamber, February 17; Irvington, Essex county, at the Town Hall, February 23; Bloomfield, Essex county, at the Town Hall, March 2; Phillipsburg, Warren county, at the Town Hall, March 9; Newton, Sussex county, at the Court House, March 16, 17 and 18. This meeting is for the purpose of placing a valuation on the mines of the New Jersey Zinc Company. The Board will also hold its regular sessions at the State House, Trenton, on every Tuesday.

In Baby's Bottle

Laxative Phospho-Mint is especially valuable as a safe and easy remedy for complaints of children. The following letter is from a mother who has tried it:

When my baby was two months old, he could keep nothing on his stomach. He was wasting away. I was advised to try a Phospho-Mint Tablet dissolved in hot water, and a spoonful of the water in his milk. From the very first he was able to keep his milk down, and now he is a big, fat boy of fifteen months. I can recommend these tablets to all mothers.

MRS. WM. JACKSON,

Laxative Phospho-Mint tablets are sold ten in a box for 10c, and the money refunded if results are not satisfactory. All druggists, or by mail, PHOSPHO-MINT COMPANY, TRENTON, N. J.
